

Fact Sheet

WHAT: The National Action Council for Minorities in Engineering (NACME) has enjoyed a 35-year legacy of leadership and service in assisting the career development of underrepresented minorities in engineering, technology, math- and science-based professions.

The 35th Anniversary Awards Dinner & Celebration is a premier fundraiser to support NACME in its mission to increase its scholarship support for African American, American Indian and Latino students in engineering.

This year's theme, Changing Lives, Changing America, speaks to NACME's dual role of changing lives through its involvement in K-12 and higher education, and its ability to change America through its leadership and policy advocacy to produce a graduating engineering class that looks like America.

The event will also honor contributors to NACME's mission who have gone far beyond the call of service, including Corporate, Citizenship, Vision University, Reginald Jones and Alumni Circle awards.
